Comfort for Bald Heads.

John S. Sargent, the noted potrait painter, said in Philadelphia, on his last visit, that he disliked to paint an old man with a thick head of hair, and that he even disliked to see thick hair on an old man. He held that custom had caused thin hair or baldness to seem the normal and natuarl condition of an old man's head, and that in consequence thick, bushy hair on an old man seemed abnormal, and was suggestive of animality, of savagery, of a lower order.

He said that an old man with thick hair growing well over his forehead invariably looked brutal and coarse. He had nothing like the look of gentle refinement that is found in the thin-haired or hald ter, Mrs. Addison Cooke, who have been visiting Miss Fannie Sams in Norfolk, are the guests of friends here.

that is found in the thin-haired or bail old man.
Only in young men and boys was thick hair natural. In the old man, the middle-aged thin hair and baidness is now the natural state, and no baid man, if he could see how odd he would look with a boy's thick thatch, would wish his lost hair back.
Mr. Sargent's words are comforting to many men. There is no baidhead living who would dispute them or who would wish them unsaid.—New York Press.

You may depend upon it, extensive plans have been made for this week's sale. The showing of Hats at $10, $12 and $15 will be very exceptional. One feature of this sale will be the large number of Model Hats that have been marked at special prices.

Our designing organization is unquestionably the most perfect in Richmond, and we are bringing out new showings daily. The many new and original effects, in keeping with the advancing season, lend a charm to this display.

Among the popular priced lines $5, $7.50 and $10-you will find many new effects. Just now there is always a big demand for the smart little Street Hats to go with the new suit. Our designs have fulfilled every requirement in this respect.

MANY BILLS OF VIRGINIANS

McKinley Takes Party of Representatives, Newspaper Men and Others to Norfolk.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.-The ten members of the House of Representatives from Virginia have introduced a total of 481 bills at this session of Congress. I haven't figured the total number of bills introduced by Virginians that have become laws. It is safe to say that 431 bills introduced by Virginians have not passed the House of Representatives in ten years. The Virginia members have introduced bills this session as fol-

The term of "White House Senator," which has been applied to several Democrats this session, has fitted none quite so well as Senator Clark, who is one of the greatest admirers and warmest supporters Mr. Roosevelt has in the country. It required the restraining influence of caucus action to prevent Mr. Clark's voting for the ratification of the Santo Dominican treaty, or rather, pledging his support to the convention. Nobody had a chance to vote for it, as the attitude of the Democrats in opposition killed it. That Senator Clark favors the Balley amendment is taken to mean that President Roosevelt is for it, or does not object seriously to its adoption.

The opinion was expressed to-day that the amendment which Senator Daniel in the life of the properties of the seriously to its adoption. applied to several Democrats this session,

Senator Daniel expected to speak on the rate bill Friday, but Senator Spooner did not conclude his speech until this afternoon, and then Senator Clark, of Arkansas, who had given notice of his intention to speak to-day, consumed the remainder of the day in support of the Balley converted Senator Clark, as it was understood until recently that he opposed the proposition of the Senator form Texas to limit the jurisdiction of

THAN PRESIDENT

Cannon Says He Has No Aspirations to Make Way Into White House.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—In conversation yesterday, Speaker Cannon let drop a few sentences of philosophy on presidential booms and bees which make interesting reading.

"The presidency is not to be had for "The presidency is not to be had be the asking," he began. "It would be ride-ulous for any man to bob up and de-oline what had not been offered to him, especially an office which no man ever has, possibly never will decline, it offered by the authority of one of the great political parties of the country. So far as I am concerned, I would rather do as I am concerned, I would raise up duty here as Speaker of the House and help work out policies to bring the greatest good to the greatest number of our people than to be President.

"The presidential bee is not buzzing in my head or about my ears, and I do not expect to be afflicted with the buzzing of that lead."

Mines Ablaze for Ages

Mines Ablaze for Ages.

Through a long line of cliffs from Colorado to Central Utah and then southwest toward Arlzona, extensive beds of coal are found and recent geological investigations into this coal formation of the far West has developed what may be termed burning mountains, or coal beds, aftre with surface indications of constant combustion for ages pagt.

Like other coal-readucing States of the Rocky Mountain region, the coal-fields of Utah are somewhat widely separated and even the known fields have been comparatively little explored; therefore, very little is known of their productive area.

The edges of these beds come to the surafce in these cliffs nearly 1,000 feet above the bordering desert and in ages past this coal has burned into the mountain cliffs until smothered by the accumulations of ashes and covering of superincumbent rocks. In places the heat of this burning coal has been so intense as to melt the rocks. From the surface appearances the fires have gone out these cliffs, but at one point in the canyon of Prince river, where the coal is being mined, the rocks are found to be un-

Among the Muck-Rakers.

Although the sentiment of the muck-fed voter may change in a greater or less degree between the present time and the date of the convention, yet the chances are that there will be no material alteration of the prevalent view, that the ticket should be headed:

For President—S. S. McClure, of New York.

The standard-bearer having been gar

For President—S. S. McClure, or New York.

The standard-bearer having been selected, the next important step is to forecast a suitable cabinet for the head of the Muckrake administration. This can be done only tentatively at present, and with this understanding the following is suggested:

Bate—rthur Brishane.

Mary—Upton Sinclair,
Treasury—Thomas W. Lawson.
Interior—Jacob Rlis.
Agriculture—Lincoln Steffens.
Fostmaster-Goneral—Ray Stannard

Postmaster-General - Ray Sathman Balder.
Attorney-General - David Graham Philips.

Even though some new muckraker of extraordinary muckraking ability may rise up among us during the next iwo years, it will be pretty difficult to show that he should be permitted to replace any of the above. There is not one in the list who has not earned not only the political support, but the admiration, of every loyal and right thinking lover of muckrakings.—Chicago Inter-Ocean. New French Warships

New French Warsnips

While the naval budget of England shows a decline, that of France has just received a very important addition. The three battleships originally decided upon for the year are to be increased to six. They are all to be of 18,000 tons, with bunkers for 2,000 tons of coal, which would enable them to steam rather more than 8,000 miles at ten knots. The armamont is to be four guns of 30mm, (12.1-5 in.), 12 of 240mm, (9.3-5 in.) and others of 3-inch and smaller callbres. On these ships, at least, there is to be no unification.

London on the Lake.

London on the Lake.

There is an increasing tendency on the part of large consumers of water in London to draw on the water reservoirs in the lower geological strata beneath the capital rather than be indebted to companies for their water supply. The latest institution to show its independence in this fashion is Clements' Inn, where, not twenty yards from the Strand, an artegian well has just been tapped after three months' boring at a depth of 450 feet.
